Welcome to the 2012 Junior World Skeet Championships

It was a great privilege to host the Junior World Skeet Championships in 2008, and it is a true pleasure to welcome the competition back this year! We have a talented and outstanding group of young people coming to join us. We look forward to providing the best experience possible for this amazing group.

While we cannot guarantee everyone a perfect score this weekend, we can guarantee a tournament filled with great targets, outstanding referees, excellent food, willing volunteers, California charm, tons of fun events, and several lasting and extraordinary memories. Many shooters will reach a personal best this weekend, and we look forward to helping each of them celebrate their special milestones.

We know that everyone can have a good time this weekend both on and off the field. The Junior World Skeet Championships each year are a great time to make new friends, strengthen old friendships, and grow the bonds of community that hold this great sport together. Please take the time to go out and meet new people. Families travel from all across the country to attend this prestigious event, and as such this weekend is the perfect time to form fresh friendships with shooters both young and old. New relationships between shooters will help to keep this great sport thriving and growing. The young shooters here are the future of the shooting sports, and judging by the quality of the character of these young people, these sports have a long and bright future ahead of them!

From the shady trees of the Stockton Gun Club in the beautiful California sunshine, to the fun and lively dinners and late night events, there will be something for everyone to enjoy!

California has plenty to offer each family that comes to visit. The stunning scenery of San Francisco, the breathtaking views of the Yosemite National Park, the always enjoyable California Wine Country, and so much more, make this a very special place, and we know that everyone can find something memorable outside of their shooting time should they choose to seek it.

So please, make yourselves at home, shoot straight, form new friendships, and most importantly have a great time! Thank you so much for attending. We look forward to throwing the best Junior World we can here at the Stockton Gun Club! If we can be of any assistance at any time, do not hesitate to come talk to us.

Good Luck,

Lou Riddle and Dan Shuford Shoot Chairmen, and all the wonderful volunteers and sponsors that make this shoot possible.

Shoot-off Information

In case of ties, shoot-offs will be conducted to determine all awards; long runs may be used to break ties for Class II and III awards if time constraints so dictate. NSSA “miss and out by station” shoot-off rules will apply for all individual and team awards. Two-person team scores will be combined and used as an aggregate score to determine awards. Shoot-offs will be conducted with skeet doubles at determined stations until a winner is determined. All shoot-offs will be announced to competitors at least 10 minutes prior to the shoot-offs. If possible, shoot-off sheets will be posted near the scoreboard. All contestants and/or teams called for a shoot-off and not present within 10 minutes, will forfeit all rights to any award they might have won due to the results of the shoot-off. All shoot-offs will occur at the conclusion of the final event of that day according to NSSA rules. Shoot-offs will run on three fields: Sub Juniors, Juniors and Collegiate simultaneously.

Sub-Junior Concurrent Event

A Sub-Junior shooter is defined as a competitor that has not reached their 14th birthday by November 1st of the current shooting year and is a member of NSSA in good standing. The NSSA official shooting year starts on November 1st of each year and ends on October 31st of the next year. The Sub-Junior concurrent will be divided into three (3) separate classes for award purposes and classification shall be based on the competitor's current average for each respective event (12, 20, 28, .410, doubles and HOA). If a competitor enters the Junior World championships without a previously established average, the score achieved during the competition will be used to classify them into a group as defined below.

Sub-Junior classifications (By Average)

	Doubles	12 gauge	20 gauge
CLASS I	88.00 and over	94.00 and over	93.00 and over
CLASS II	84.00 – 87.99	91.00 - 93.99	90.00-92.99

Collegiate Concurrent Event

A Collegiate shooter is defined as a full-time undergraduate student in an accredited degree oriented learning institution up to a maximum of five (5) years of eligibility. For one time only, a shooter is eligible to compete as a collegiate shooter prior to his/her freshman year as long as he/she produces a letter of acceptance from a degree oriented institution. If required by shoot management, entry eligible individuals must produce a valid student identification card. The card must be valid as of November 1st of the current shooting year. The Collegiate concurrent will be divided into three (3) separate classes for award purposes and classification shall be based on the competitor's current average for each respective event (12, 20, 28, .410, doubles and HOA). If a competitor enters the Junior World championships without a previously established average, the score achieved during the competition will be used to classify them into a group as defined below.

Collegiate classifications (By Average)

	Doubles	12 gauge	20 gauge
CLASS I	95.00 and over	98.50 and over	98.00 and over

 Collegiate Two Person Team (1st and 2nd)

Parent/Coach-Child Event

Parent/Coach-Child will be allowed to compete in the Junior World Championships based on availability of slots in which to shoot. Preference will be given to Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate competitors. Parent and coaches will be asked to relinquish their slots to Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate competitors in the following order: NGC parents/coaches removed first, non NGC parents/coaches are removed next based on the date of pre-registration form and deposit received.

Parent/Coach Concurrent – eligibility to shoot in the Junior World under a “parent concurrent” status will be granted for parents, step parents, guardians and other members of the Sub-Junior, Junior or Collegiate’s family who are 18 years of age or older. In the instance that a youth shooter does not have a family member to participate, a coach (known to actively participate in the Sub-Junior, Junior or collegiate competitor’s training) will be allowed to participate as a parent concurrent for purposes of the parent/coach-child team events. NO NSSA All American points will be reported for the parent concurrent of the parent-coach/child team events. Parent concurrent will not be separated in Classes I, II or III, other than the classification defined in the parent/coach-child teams listed below.

Parent/Coach-Child Team is defined as a two person team comprised of one Sub-Junior, Junior or Collegiate competitor and an eligible parent concurrent (as defined above). All parent/coach-child teams will compete against other teams without regard to the age of the child competitor (parent/collegiate teams will compete against parent/junior and parent/sub-junior). The two person team will be assigned a team classification based on the team’s concurrent combined average for each respective event (12, 20, 28, .410, Doubles and HOA). Competitors may participate with different team members in different events, but they will remain limited to one parent/coach-child team per event. There will be no charge for participation as a parent/coach-child team. If a parent/coach-child enters the Junior World championships without a previously established average, the score achieved during the competition will be used to classify the team into a group as defined below.

	Doubles	12 gauge	20 gauge

Parent/Coach-Child Team Class I (1st and 2nd)
Parent/Coach-Child Team Class II (1st and 2nd)
Parent Concurrent (Champion, Runner-up and 3rd)

Champion of Champions Event

It is a tradition at NSSA World Championship Events to conduct a non-registered preliminary event known as the Champion of Champions competition. This preliminary event is also referred to as the Champ of Champs (C of C) Event. All competitors wishing to compete are allowed. Parents are allowed to compete with their youth competitors; however, preference for youth shooters is given to the available competitor slots.

The event consists of shooting one regulation round of skeet in the 12 gauge, 20 gauge, 28 gauge and .410 bore totaling 100 targets shot. Sufficient time is given in between rounds to reconfigure tubed guns for each subsequent round. Note: a shell smaller than the gauge specified can be used for the first three rounds; some shooters choose to shoot 20 gauge for the first two rounds, while other shooters choose to shoot gauge for the first three rounds in the C of C Event.

There are no All-American points awarded and no two person concurrent teams or parent/child teams in the C of C Event.

C of C Junior World Championship Awards

- Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate World Champion
- Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate Runner Up
- Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate Third
- Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate Lady World Champion
- Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate Lady Runner Up
- Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate Lady Third

Concurrent Competition Format

Years ago, the Junior World Skeet Championships did not exist. The Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate competitors had to compete in the NSSA World Championships held every year in October. This presented challenges for the younger shooters to attend due to educational commitments. The NSSA decided to develop a new "Junior Only" event to be held annually in the month of July. Hence, the Junior World was born. Every year the Junior World shoot travels around the country to a new location. Any club that wishes to host the Junior World is required to formally request the event. NSSA has a minimum list of requirements that each club must comply with in order to be considered for the Junior World host club. An example of these requirements is the number of skeet fields required to handle the volume of Junior World shooters. The NSSA executives evaluate each of the requests and pre-select a host club for the following year.

During most NSSA registered skeet events, competitors are placed in separate classifications (AAA, AA, A B, etc.) based on their target average in the event. The competitors can also compete based on concurrent status such as Sub-Junior, Junior, Collegiate, Lady and many others. NSSA awards All-American points for both open and concurrent performance. The open All-American point system is based on the number of AA and AAA shooters attending the event. The concurrent All-American point system is based on the number of competitors competing in the same event in the same concurrent (Sub-Junior, Junior, etc.) At local skeet competitions, it is uncommon to have very many (Sub-Junior, Junior, etc) competitors. This makes the Junior World a key event in the selection of the Sub-Junior, Junior and Collegiate All American teams.

During the Junior World, competitors compete in their concurrent(s) only. For instance, Sub-Juniors will only compete against other Sub-Juniors. There is no competition between classes such as AAA, AA, A, B, etc. One special twist to the Junior World is that concurrents are classified by Class I, Class II, or Class III based on their target average for each event (Doubles, 12, 20, 28, 410 and HOA). Please note that the HAA (Doubles and 4 guns) event at the Junior World is for "Honors Only" in the event that a shooter does well enough to hit all 500 targets! The break points in the different classes and the corresponding averages are specified by the Junior World committee and are listed in the shoot program. The Junior World classification system is used to award medals for each class. Sub-Junior and Junior class medals are awarded for first through sixth in each class. Collegiate class medals are awarded for first through third. In each event, the Champion, Runner up and Third place winners in each concurrent are removed from Class (I, II or III) and then Classes I, II and III places are determined. All American points for Sub Junior, Junior and Collegiate are awarded to the event Champion, Runner-up, third and places in Class I. Competitors can declare up to Class I if they so desire. This must be done when they register and prior to competing in the event.

In each event, if there are any ties in score for Class I, II and III places, a shoot-off occurs to determine the winner. Long runs may also be used to determine Class II and III places. Long runs are defined as how many consecutive targets are broken from the FRONT to the BACK of a competitors event score. For instance, if a competitor misses their fourth target in the first box and then breaks the remaining targets for a score of 99, the competitor's long runs are 3 and 96. The largest number is used to determine class placement against other competitors with a score of 99 in the event. Long runs are commonly used at the NSSA World Championships due to the number of potential shoot-offs. The Junior World Shoot Management will use shoot-offs to determine places for medals and Class I places. Long runs will be used only in the event of inclement weather or any event that would preclude shoot-offs breaking ties. This will be determined by the Protest committee in conjunction with shoot Management.
